

FALL 2011 RAINES COLLOQUIUM

The Higher, Adult, and Lifelong Education program at Michigan State University is pleased to present

Reflections on Max Raines, Higher Education, and Our Work

Dr. George Kuh

Chancellor's Professor Emeritus of Higher Education at Indiana University,
Director of the National Institute for Learning
Outcomes Assessment, and Director of the Strategic National

Date:
Thursday,
September 22

Location:
252 Erickson

Time:
1:30 – 3:00 p.m.

To RSVP, if you require special accommodations, or for more information, please contact Kyle Carter at hleadm@msu.edu or 517-432-1519.

The Raines Colloquium honors the significant contributions of Emeritus Professor Max Raines to the department, the college, the university, and the field of student affairs in higher education. A national leader in the field, Dr. Raines was also a critical figure in creating a strong academic and professional foundation for MSU's nationally recognized programs in student affairs, adult education, and higher education.

George Kuh is Chancellor's Professor Emeritus of Higher Education at Indiana University Bloomington and was the founding director of the Center for Postsecondary Research and the National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE). He currently directs two national projects, the National Institute for Learning Outcomes Assessment and the Strategic National Arts Alumni Project (SNAAP), the first-ever in-depth look at the factors that help or hinder the careers of graduates of arts-intensive training high schools and postsecondary institutions. At Indiana University, he served as chairperson of the Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs in the School of Education, and Associate Dean of the Faculties for the Bloomington campus.

Dr. Kuh has more than 300 publications and made several hundred presentations on topics related to institutional improvement, college student engagement, assessment strategies, and campus cultures. In addition, he has been a consultant to more than 300 institutions of higher education and educational agencies in the United States and abroad. His contributions have been recognized with awards from the American College Personnel Association, American Educational Research Association, Association for Institutional Research, Association for the Study of Higher Education (ASHE), Council for Adult and Experiential Learning, Council of Independent Colleges, National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, and National Center on Public Policy in Higher Education.

A past-president of ASHE, George holds six honorary degrees (Luther College, Midland Lutheran College, Millikin University, Post University, Washington and Jefferson College, Winthrop University) and serves on the Board of Regents at Luther College and the National Leadership Council for the Association of American College and Universities "Liberal Education and America's Promise" initiative. George received the B.A. from Luther College, M.S. from St. Cloud State University, and Ph.D. from the University of Iowa.